

Got participants waiting for OT or Speech Pathology with nowhere to go?

Or a plan that will not stretch to the hours they need? Here is how our allied health assistant program adds goal-directed practice hours.

An allied health assistant extends a clinician's reach. The clinician owns the assessment, the goals and the plan. The assistant delivers the practice, far more often than a clinician alone could, at home, at school and in the community. Sessions are billed at a lower hourly rate than a clinician's, so the participant gets more goal-directed hours from the same budget.

— HOW IT WORKS

From referral to more practice hours.

— WHO DOES WHAT

THE CLINICIAN

- ✓ Assessment, goals and the therapy plan
- ✓ Task-specific delegation, in writing
- ✓ Supervision, review and reports
- ✓ Any change to the plan

THE ALLIED HEALTH ASSISTANT

- ✓ Delivers the practice exactly as designed
- ✓ Works where the goal lives: home, school, community
- ✓ Records notes after every session
- ✓ Brings anything outside the plan straight back to the clinician

— MEET THE TEAM

Ruby Van Den Driest

Allied health assistant and third-year speech pathology student. Gold Coast, at home, at school and in the community, guided by our speech pathologists and occupational therapists together. Books open.

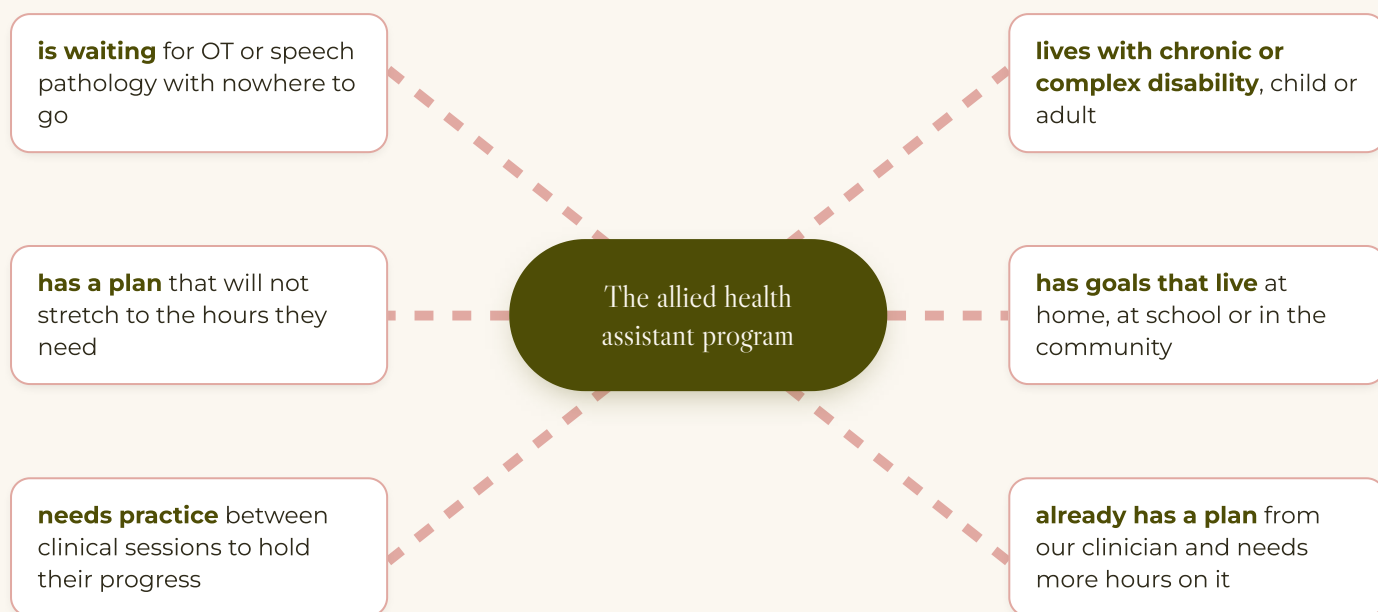

Ella Rankin

Psychology graduate, lived-experience peer practitioner, key worker and allied health assistant. Gold Coast and Brisbane, plus telehealth. Paediatric early intervention and literacy, under our senior clinicians.

— WHO IT SUITS

A good fit when a participant...

— WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT

- ✓ Clear communication, and notes after every session. No chasing providers into the void.
- ✓ One coordinated team. Speech and occupational therapy are not siloed, and every clinician is a trained Key Worker.
- ✓ Clinician-designed, always supervised. Delegation is task-specific and the assistant never changes the plan.
- ✓ A queue that fills in order. We do not over-promise capacity; a real person tells you where things stand.

How NDIS funding works for this. NDIS funding may cover therapy assistant supports where it aligns with the participant's goals and approved plan. Not all NDIS plans include these supports. Sessions are billed at the therapy assistant rate under the NDIS Pricing Arrangements and Price Limits, and we confirm current rates in writing before any work begins. We never charge anyone to help them understand the NDIS.

Refer a participant, or ask about current capacity.

Tell us who you are supporting and a real person calls you. Nothing to sign up for on the call.
